TODAY'S EDITORIAL

(Reprint from Daily Herald)

Today is the last time to see "Grapes of Wrath," the picture from the book by John Steinbeck the government wanted to suppress.

According to all standards of baring the truth, it brings home to Americans the shocking reality that the New Deal has committed the gravest economic and social crime in the history of the race.

It's the story of tenants put out in the big road. A neat subterfuge says the dust bowl and tractor did it. That of course is as false as the picture is revealing.

The truth is "Grapes of Wrath," is the story of social disaster wrought when the government substituted economic anarchy for the American way of working and earning.

If your virility is gone and you've lost your American guts you won't like the picture. If you are still an American you'll say:

"To hell with social experiments that uproot people from the soil and spread the pagan doctrine of free society!"

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Septuagenarians now serving on the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce may get superannuation and a pension, if changes in the by laws get the desired results. Directors, eight in number are to be eliminated each year. Just what is meant by elimination is not clear, but the theory seems to be to bring new faces into the picture.

All directors who have served fifty years or more may be retired with honors and stipulations. The idea seems a good one. At least it might result in breaking the crust and get the old organization out of the rut.

Civic leadership must be hitched up.

Every community must have progress and especially does Cameron need it.

We have been unaware as a whole of the tremendous possibilities that lie within the sphere of our ability to exploit.

Let's give the 1898 model set up a big hand for its vision of other days and invite all those whose faces are turned toward the rising sun, into the new idealogy.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Entertainment is still America's greatest off time asset.

It keeps the balance, prevents us from becoming sordid and guards many of the vital aspects of the American way of life.

All of which is just another way to get at what we want to say.

Tomorrow Cameron Theatre presents the first performance of "Gone With the Wind." The story of the Confederacy has been told many times. Whether Margaret Mitchell has scored as big literary success as present popularity indicates, we won't attempt to say.

This much is certain: "Gone With the Wind," that is the screen version of it, gets the story over the millions who never read a book. It's something big for Cameron or any other city so far as the entertainment world goes. It'll be here four days, twice each day.

The Herald has often said with truth: Cameron theatres bring more people to the city than any other division of our life. They've scored a big hit this week. They deserve a big hand.

MIDDLETON CASE IS DISMISSED FRIDAY

C. R. Middleton, superintendent of Sharp consolidated high school, will not be prosecuted on a charge filed against him by Paul C. Graves.

Criminal District Attorney, W. A. (Bill) Morrison dismissed the case against Middleton because of what he termed, insufficient evidence. Friends of the superintendent will be glad to know that the case has been dismissed.

Middleton was charged with the offense of "defeating the due delivery of an election return."

BRITISH CUTS OFF NEWS BROADCASTS

The battle of Narvik, growing hourly into a major struggle between Great Britain and Germany was described today as terrible and bloody.

British censorship Wednesday cut off all information sources. Hereafter no news will come from the British capital. The Empire moved suddenly to keep secret its war operations as well as the progress of the battle in Norway.

All information available at noon Wednesday came from the German capital and from Swedish sources.

The gravity of the struggle was indicated clearly in a statement from Berlin today in which the German high command announced for the first time that British soldiers had landed and a battle is in progress.

The German statement said that one third of the German forces in the port have been killed, indicating that guns from British warships have taken a heavy toll. One German naval commander lost his life defending Narvik.

Already, said the German statement 40 ships have been sent to the bottom. Allied transports have been sunk.

Germany until Wednesday had denied allied troops had landed. Wednesday at noon the Germans gave out the only statement regarding the battle, admitting the British have blockaded the port and landed troops.

Italy was momentarily expected to send an ultimatum to Britain as a preliminary to entry into the war on the side of Germany. The Allies are said to be taking steps to meet any eventuality in the Mediterranean sea.

The British press Tuesday called upon the people of England to have patience, indicating the country is attempting a large scale land operation in Scandinavia.

The British are said to have admitted that lines of communication cannot be broken by the navy because Germans are in the air and the allies are bringing in increased air power.

Germany was reported massing its air armada in Norway and the first great blast at the British Isles was expected hourly.

JUDGE W. C. DAVIS DIES IN BRYAN HOME

Judge W. C. Davis, former District Attorney of Cameron and for 20 years, District Judge of Bryan died there late last week.

Judge Davis was a picturesque figure in Texas politics and made an impressive record as prosecuting attorney for the 20th Judicial District. At that time Milam county was not a district within itself.

He became known as Penitentiary Davis because of the large number of convictions he obtained. One of the few remaining old time orators, Davis blazed a trail of eloquence throughout Texas.

Judge W. S. Barron has been named to succeed Judge Davis by Governor O'Daniel. Judge Barron is a former Speaker of the House of Representatives. Mrs. Barron is the former Miss Bess DuBois of Cameron and one time social editor of the Herald.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

The Rotarians have an idea. Sinclair Lewis may not agree but it looks as though they may at least be under way with a sizeable co-operative effort.

Mose Cox, somewhat of a naturalist and a student of botany, some weeks ago, after the Rotary Club had broached the matter, secured photographs in color of Dog Wood in bloom and hills of Bluebonnet.

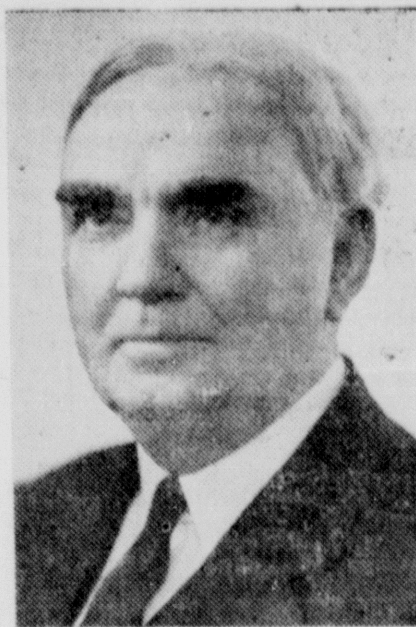

Mose plans a program soon to show the possibilities of realizing on the beauties of the woods and prairies of Milam.

Over in Buffalo each year they cut watermelons. Navasota has her Bluebonnet Belles; Palestine her Dog Wood Trails; Cuero her Turkey Trot. There are yam carnivals and pea feasts, so might Cameron break into the land of tomorrow by touting the wonders at our door.

Cox says more dog wood blooms in Milam than all Palestine trails, and besides we have bluebonnets which Palestine does not possess.

Let's get a move on. We might have something in this suggestion.

Stanley Swift to Movie Star Show In Dallas Friday

Stanley Swift will leave Cameron early Friday for Dallas where he will spend the next two days at the convention of the Variety Clubs.

These clubs are made up of motion picture exhibitors, producers, and others who make up the field of entertainment. Its benefits are charity, thousands of dollars being paid annually to the support of hospitals throughout the United States. There are only twenty-five such clubs in America. The largest number of motion picture stars to meet in any American city at one time are expected to be in Dallas for this convention.

The list of stars include such celebrities as Norma Shearer, Bing Crosby, Ann Sheridan, Dorothy Lamour, Clark Gable, Wallace Beery, Gene Autry and a host of others. Ken Murray will be toastmaster at the banquet Saturday night.

Mr. Swift told a representative of the Daily Herald that movie stars are a bunch of good fellows and pleasantly human. He looks forward to renewing acquaintance with many of the outstanding names on the screen.

Victor Wimberly Candidate for County Treasurer

Victor Wimberly, widely known citizen of Milam County and a resident of the Milam Community, today announced that he is a candidate for County Treasurer, and his formal announcement will appear in the Cameron Daily Herald and the Weekly Herald within the next few days.

British Guns Blast Germany's Navy

British sea power today had blasted its way to control of the Skagerrak and the Kattergat in the greatest naval victory in the history of the fleet.

Near the historic waters of Jutland where the grand fleet of Germany steamed out to challenge British power in the world war, today the red flame of mighty rifles belching death and disaster was writing a dramatic story of world consequence.

Germany has apparently lost the first great battle of the war.

When the German fleet steamed out of Baltic harbors in contempt of British power, the world was amazed and today as news came and censorship was being gradually lifted from the great battle area, it seemed almost certain that the German fleet or whatever portion of it had braved the Skagerrak, had either been destroyed or is bottled up and subject to capture.

A radio broadcast from the British capital brought a statement by Winston Churchill who said that "all German fighting ships in the waters of Norway and also the coast of Sweden will be sunk. Transports and supply ships will be blown out of the water."

For the first time it was revealed by an official British statement that the British navy had severed the line of communication and cut off the German troops from contact with the navy.

ITALY IS SET FOR WAR

All eyes today were turned on Benito Mussolini, the man of Italian destiny whose chin has been a sign board on which ominous events have been written since he formed his axis partnership with Adolf Hitler in 1938.

Italy has called up 5 new classes of men for military service.

Fear that Italy would enter the war on the side of Germany was increased. The Turks are on the march and allied sea power is being concentrated near the Dardanelles.

Great Britain has sent a warning to Italy that if the country wishes to be treated as a neutral, she must adopt neutral methods. A war commission from Germany is now in Rome.

Rumania and Russia showed signs of friendship when both nations agreed to keep their troops 10 miles away from their borders.

A long struggle for victory was the British view expressed today as the only London comment on the war in Europe and Scandinavia.

The Germans by reason of their entrenchment in Norway will be able to stave off allied victory for a long time.

The Germans say they have sunk 20 British warships while the British admiralty say only four have been lost.

Censorship was clamped down tight and no news from the battle front could be had except that coming from Berlin and Sweden. These reports state that fighting is bitter and thousands of men are being killed.

The British navy continued its operations and troop landings by the Nazis were confined to the air. It is believed that the British navy has stopped transports through the Skagerrak.

The British are reported to have demolished the port of Stravangar. Indications are that the allies have won possession of Narvik although the Germans would not admit that any progress has been made in Norway.

WEATHER FORECAST

For Cameron and vicinity Thursday night and Friday, clear and colder. Unless temperatures moderate considerably, view was expressed frost might again visit this section.

This is taken to indicate, if verified by subsequent information, that the British navy has doomed the adventure of Adolf Hitler into Scandinavia. All that seemed possible for Hitler to do to get supplies to his troops would be invasion of Sweden and this now seems doubtful since the British navy had moved to clear the Kattergat which has been heavily mined and now under virtual control of English fighting ships.

Five more German cruisers were sunk in fighting since dispatches yesterday. One 8,000 ton German battle cruiser was blown up and sunk.

On land Norwegian forces were co-operating with the British and the forces of both nations were closing in on Narvik. An early morning communication said the British are landing troops but this has not been verified and in view of the victory of the navy it is unlikely that any troop movement will result from England.

Bulgaria and Yugoslavia were reported today to have signed an agreement with Germany permitting Nazi police protection for Reich commerce on the Danube. Italy called 5 new classes of soldiers to the colors. Red Russia was reported massing troops on the Rumanian border.

Belgium and Holland were momentarily expecting a German thrust.

U. S. SENDS NAVY TO FAR EAST; WATCHING JAPAN; BATTLE IN SKAGGERAK STILL RAGING

The war in Europe today brought repercussions in America and for the first time it was revealed that the United States Government feels grave concern over developments.

Early today Washington notified all the belligerent powers that three American vessels now in Bergen must be allowed to return safely to the United States.

Bergen, a Norwegian port, is in German hands. It was indicated the United States government will hold responsible any nation that fails to give protection to these ships.

It was revealed that the American government is concentrating naval strength in the Philippines and also considerable troop movements are reported.

Japan is believed to be ready to seize the Dutch East Indies in case Germany invades Holland. In Europe it was feared that the Germans would spring upon the Dutch soon.

Rumania stopped the flow of oil and trade with Germany and the world was waiting for the Nazis to act, believing that military operations would soon take the Germans into the Balkans.

Censorship had been so thoroughly imposed in European capitals that no news of the great sea battle, still raging, could be had.

German war ships in Oslo Fjord are believed to have been besieged by British. Until developments are made known there is little to tell about the progress of the battle.

Since Friday it is believed that Germany has made a redetermined effort to hold the ports and announced today that all Norwegian coast towns seized are still in German hands.

Germany today sent a note to the Swedish government telling that country not to gamble on an allied victory, that Germany will hold Scandinavia and win the war.

Sweden has made it plain that the country will fight. Germany may be forced to seize Sweden for transportation of troops into Norway.

In London the British government said an expeditionary force is ready and waiting transportation to Norway.

In Berlin the Germans claimed to be re-enforcing Oslo and claimed that despite British boasting that Norwegian coasts are still under German control.

The British denied that German troops are landing and claim that the Skaggerak and Kattergat are under control of the British Navy.

GERMANS FLEEING TO SWEDISH BORDER

Censorship Monday had made a blackout of information vital to an understanding of the extent and progress of the war in Scandinavia.

Shortly before 7 a. m. Monday the British Admiralty said that British troops had successfully landed at Narvik on the Northern coast of Norway and that German troops in possession of the city were fleeing through the hill to the Swedish border.

In Berlin at 9 a. m. Monday the German official news Agency DNB said that the Nazis government had no information on British claims and that no troops of the enemy had been landed anywhere on the Norwegian coast.

Plainly these reports were contradictory.

Broadcasts out of Sweden said the British troops had landed. Heavy casualties were reported on both sides as the British troops landed at Narvik, iron ore port, held by Germany. Heavy attacks from sea and air were made by Germans to prevent the landing, but the British apparently had concentrated heavy naval forces to drive through and land their troops.

Germany accused King Haakon of Norway of turning his country over to the British. This will give the Germans immediate pretext for a total war against the Norwegians.

Germany claims to have sunk 27 warships of the British navy since the battle began on Monday last. Also 24 British planes are claimed to have been shot down by the Germans.

A considerable land battle is expected to ensue on land between Norwegians, British and the Germans.

Italy was momentarily expected to get in the war to aid Germany. By entering Italy could make trouble in Southeastern Europe while the British are engaged in Norway. It was believed Italy would take over, if possible, entrance to the Dardanelles to deny allied ships entrance to the Black Sea.

Already at noon Monday Italy had concentrated her fleet off the Turkish coast. Germany was expected to ask for immediate policing if the Danube with gun boats. This, it is believed would force England and France to ask permission of Turkey to enter the Black Sea with their fleets. If permission is granted Italy will step in on the side of Germany. If the British and French are denied entrance at the Dardanelles, Turkey may have begun a backout on her alliance with the allies.

No confidence whatever can be placed in total, the news now emanating from European capitals. It was not likely that any impression could be created anywhere that Mussolini can be trusted. He is bound by axis agreement to enter the war whenever Germany commands.

It was believed that the Italian people and the Royal family would not consent to fight France and England. This, it is agreed would make little difference to a Dictator. If it pleases Mussolini to break with Hitler he is regarded as likely to do so.

In the meantime in London where old British men are trying desperately to get war under way, still held the world in doubt as to the outcome of the British effort to aid Norway.

An invasion of Holland is not probable at this time, if Italy moves to carry the war against the Allies in the Balkans.

ANOTHER STALMATE IS FEARED IN EUROPE

Prospects of a stalemate for the European war was in prospect today as news dwindled to a rehash of what has occurred over a period of a week.

Germany and Britain continued to haggle over the results and who has been victorious thus far.

The British claim to have wiped out an air base established by the Nazis on the Norwegian coast.

The Germans will deny this. The Germans claim to have sunk a 10,000 ton cruiser.

A Swedish broadcast told of an alleged battle off the Danish coast.

There was nothing to indicate that British troops, reported Tuesday to have landed in Narvik, had gone into action. The Germans reported advances into the interior of Norway.

Berlin reported that the German government had sent King Haakon a last warning to come in and give up, otherwise to expect to be hunted. The King has been chased about through his country. He is said to be tired, hungry and wading through the snow.

Sol Sider, former business man here and at one time candidate for the office of Secretary and Treasurer, was back in the city Tuesday on a business visit.

RESOLUTION ON NEUTRALITY AND PEACE

Adopted by the Texas District of the American Lutheran Church in Convention Assembled at Fredericksburg, April 6th, 1940.

Whereas the Lutheran Church of America deeply appreciates the principles which made the United States of America "the land of the free and the home of the brave;" namely, the Freedom of Conscience, Separation of Church and State, States of America "the land of the Democracy; And

Whereas the world by reason of the conflagration in Europe is in danger of losing these great divine principles of justice and freedom; And

Whereas the United States is being flooded with propaganda intended to draw it into this impending halacust of destruction; And

Whereas internal subversive elements are at this time endangering our democratic principles and with them the freedom of religion, of speech, and of the press, and are thereby undermining our American Form of Government with all its precious institutions;

Therefore be it Resolved, that the Texas District of the American Lutheran Church in convention assembled on April 2-7, 1940, A. D. is of the conviction that the cause of democracy, of freedom, and of justice can best be served by the United States of America.

First, if the United States remain strictly neutral in this present war, conscientiously observing the advice of George Washington concerning "foreign entanglements," lest, by being drawn in to the war, the United States sacrifice its own liberty and, in consequence, lose its opportunity to give sane directives for the rebuilding of a devastated, impoverished, and despairing Europe when the war is ended;

Second, of every honest effort be made to uncover any and all subversive activities in our land;

Third, if we firmly stand by the principle of religious freedom as well as the principle of separation of Church and State and oppose any movement that militates against these principles;

Fourth, if we bear in mind that all peace efforts and social and economic cures will fail until the people to proclaim with renewed earnest to Faith in God and to His moral order.

Therefore We Call Upon:

First, the churches and their people to reclaim with renewed emphasis such return to Faith in God and His moral order;

Second, the government of the United States that it do all within its power to keep our beloved country out of the European conflict;

Third, the press of the land to counteract the evil results of foreign propaganda by presenting facts in their true light;

Fourth, Pastors of churches fearlessly to testify against sin, setting forth its destructive consequences, and energetically to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ as the only remedy for the individual and society in these hectic days;

Fifth, all Districts of the American Lutheran Church to make this Resolution their own.

Be It Also Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be sent to:

The Secretary of State, Cordell Hull.

The Chairman of the United States Senate, Vice President Garner.

The Speaker of the House, Bankhead.

The Senators from Texas, Shepherd and Connally.

The Congressmen from Texas.

The President of the American Lutheran Church.

The Chairman of each District of the American Lutheran Church and of all other Lutheran church bodies.

The Pastors of the Texas District of the American Lutheran Church.

The Officials of the American Legion.

The Press.

Be It Finally Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be spread on the minutes of this Convention.

(Signed) C. N. ROTH, Sec'y.

Resolution introduced by Rev. F. G. Roosen, Austin, Texas.

proven record is ample justification for the acclaim his name receives among all the people.

Public esteem is the reward of those who serve well and promotion finds a way to reward those who possess the ability to get results, friends say as they indorse his contribution to a brilliant eight year record in Cameron.

When Mayor Smith took oath of office eight years ago in Cameron as Mayor of the city, he faced one of the most difficult problems any municipal executive has known. The city's finances were at low ebb and the public debt added a dark cloud to the horizon as the energetic man of achievement went to work to justify the confidence expressed by his overwhelming election.

The depression years added to his difficulties. Undaunted by these obstacles Mayor Smith revamped the budget as he found the city without immediate revenues for operation. He determined that the existing policy of borrowing from banks was not good business in view of the existing need for revision of expenditures and the institution of efficiency. Accordingly and with the execution of $3,000 which was necessarily contracted, he has never at any time found it necessary to pledge the credit of the city for funds on which to operate the government. From the beginning of his administration the city's finances improved and prospects for the city's progress were bright. The city has not borrowed a single penny in almost 8 years.

By putting into effect measures designed to save the people money on operations, by advantageously retiring the public debt and abstaining from incurring obligations, Mayor Smith with the co-operation of those who were associated with him, soon found a way to work out a destiny for his city, few men have been able to achieve.

When he took oath of office in April this year, being elected without opposition, Mayor Smith had rounded out 8 years of the most significantly economical service ever rendered the people.

Net savings in that period of time had been $150,000. Thus Mayor Smith becomes the best investment Cameron tax payers ever made for he has saved them this enormous sum and in addition the city has made great progress.

Mr. Smith believes that the best public service is economy. Public business is as much deserving of good management as private enterprise, he believes, and points out that few business men could succeed if they applied the average wasteful policy of government to operation.

Cameron stands out as unique among municipalities in the United States. Recently a comment was made by New York bond houses, that the credit of the city of Cameron is as good if not the best of any city in America. At the time the entire bonded debt of the city was only about $132,000. With all obligations paid to date the city's financial statement showed more than $20,000 in cash to the credit of the general fund, the account which Mayor Smith found $3,000 in the red when he began his service to the city.

To have retired the obligations of the city, paid off the accruing debts, reducing the bonded obligations to $132,000; paid back in savings on tax collections many thousands of dollars; put savings into effect; built up a cash reserve out of which present public improvements are being made without the necessity of tax increase or raise in values; keeping his city definitely in step with progress and saving in total $150,000 is a record unique in the annals of American municipal government.

The present bonded debt of the city is only $112,000. Each year the city has issued a financial statement showing the people the exact condition of finances. These statements are of such strength and understanding they have created wide comment. Recently the Dallas News and other large Texas papers had much to say commending the administration of Mr. Smith whose government will soon issue the 1940 statement showing great financial progress for the city.

As County Judge for Milam County Mr. Smith would bring to that office a wealth of experience and great ability to institute measures of economy that would result in great savings to the tax payers of the county. He would be able to invest the office with great executive ability and friends and supporters point out that his training and experience are now available to the people.

As Mayor of Cameron he has also been Judge of the Corporation Court. For eight years his experience has given him a wide knowledge of court procedure and has equipped him for the important duties he would be called on to perform as County Judge.

As a life long citizen of Milam County, Mr. Smith is thoroughly identified with the people and traditions of the historic county. In his private as well as public life he merits the honor of a good name and great integrity. He is frank, sincere and fearlessly impartial in the discharge of his duties. He has no higher conception of public duty than to consider first the interests of those who pay taxes and entrust to their public officials the important duty of administration.

Mr. Smith is an active citizen and civic leader and fraternalist; member of Cameron's leading civic organizations and consistently supports the efforts of his fellow citizens in the common cause of progress and mutual helpfulness. As County Judge he would be sympathetic, helpful and understanding, giving these exceptional personal qualities to his service in addition to outstanding business ability.

In making the campaign Mr. Smith will make a sincere effort to see each one, to ask their vote and support and in doing so to pledge each one the same fidelity to duty that has brought to him a measure of public esteem and distinction few men have deserved. He is grateful for the opportunity to announce his candidacy and deeply appreciates the co-operation which has enabled him to serve so well.

Your vote and support will be appreciated and he pledges his loyalty to duty, his record of service, great energy and executive ability as a reward for the confidence his election would imply. If during the campaign he does not have the good fortune to see you and ask for your support, he takes this method of inviting your consideration and assures each one anything they may do will be greatly appreciated.
